A Belgian Billiards Tragedy

Multiple titleholder Raymond Ceulemans did not compete in this European Championship. However, he was neither sick nor competing in other tournaments; in fact, he was in Mol - but only as a spectator. Because he had placed third in the Belgian Championship and had finished second in the previous year's European Championship despite a general world record average of 15,98, he was not allowed to participate. There were simply too many world-class Belgian players.
